

January 14, 2005

Dear Fellow Kentuckians:

This mailing invites you to participate in two processes. First, the Kentucky Heritage Council is establishing priorities for Federal Survey and Planning Grants for the 2005-2006 Federal fiscal year, which begins October 1, 2005. We seek your input in finalizing those priorities.

We have developed annual priorities for the 2004-2005 Federal fiscal year based on national goals, the Kentucky State Historic Preservation Plan, and on our own analysis of program needs. The solicitation of public comment is a vital part of setting these priorities. If you wish to comment on the priorities as developed, we will appreciate hearing from you. Please respond by February 1, 2005.

Second, a grant application is also enclosed for those who wish to apply for a grant for work to be completed between May 2, 2005 and September 1, 2005, which may be renewable through August 1, 2006. Please note that the deadline for receipt of grant applications is February 25, 2005.

Included again in this year's grant application process is a step to strengthen compliance with Civil Rights requirements. The enclosed Civil Rights Compliance sheets are some of the documents for you to complete and submit as part of your application. Completion of the Civil Rights Compliance Grid and the proposal narrative helps your group reach under-served groups in your area. This step ensures that diverse populations have an opportunity to participate in and benefit from federally funded grant projects.

We appreciate your input into the priority-setting process.

Sincerely,

David L. Morgan, Executive Director
Kentucky Heritage Council &
State Historic Preservation Officer

ANNOUNCEMENT

2004-2005 FEDERAL HISTORIC PRESERVATION GRANTS

GENERAL INFORMATION

SUBGRANTEE REQUIREMENTS

- Subgrantees must administer the project according to federal and state regulations, including compliance with EEO and Affirmation Action provisions.
- All funded projects are governed by a Letter of Agreement between the Kentucky Heritage Council and the subgrantee, which specifies the time period, the scope of work, an approved budget, reporting requirements, and applicable state and federal regulations.
- Recipients of subgrants must match the federal grant with non-federal funds on a 60/40 matching basis. (60% Federal and 40% Local).

CIVIL RIGHTS COMPLIANCE GRID INSTRUCTIONS

The grid on the next sheet allows your group and the Kentucky Heritage Council to ensure that the project serves diverse populations and avoids illegal discrimination. Complete the grid and submit it with our application. Your proposal narrative should also explain how you plan to comply with Civil Right requirements.

The federal government and the Commonwealth have passed a number of laws to ensure that under served populations are included in the work undertaken by the government or work funded by the government. Those laws prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex, race color, age, national origin, religion, or disability or the denial of access to government activities on the basis of sex, race color, age, national origin, religion, or disability. Primary among those laws is the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which states in part that:

No person shall, on the grounds of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity of this agency.

Subsequent federal laws, such as the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1975, the Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972, Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, and the Civil Rights Act of 1991, and their counterparts on the state level, extend protections to groups not explicitly covered in the initial legislation. Various statutes and regulations of the Commonwealth require that its agency's activities, including its grants programs, conform to this federal Civil Rights legislation.

Thus, among its many responsibilities in administering grant programs, the Kentucky Heritage Council must assist its subgrantees in following these requirements prohibiting discrimination. Within this grant application process, the Kentucky Heritage Council has included a number of ways for your group to satisfy these requirements simply and affirmatively. Your group signals its willingness to abide by these requirements by signing Item 5 of the Grant Application Form.

Heritage Council staff will review all projects and use Civil Rights compliance as a factor in selecting project awards. Primarily, at two points of the grant application, in the proposal narrative and on the grid of the following page, your group details to the Heritage Council staff the ways in which you will comply with these prohibitions against discrimination. Together, the grid and your proposal narrative explain to the Kentucky Heritage Council and to your community the ways in which these federal funds will involve a wide range of resources and people.

In your proposal narrative, describe your plans to include groups protected by Civil Right laws and other under served populations. Address these questions in the narrative:

- At what permanent location will most of the project's work take place? Will this location deny access to any one on the basis of color, race, national origin, religion, age, sex or disability?
- How will those groups be made aware that the project is being planned, be invited into participation in it, and benefit from the projects product?
- At which public places in the community, such as at the project headquarters or at the library, will Civil Rights compliance information be posted and complaint forms be available?
- If applying for pre-development (federal funds) or a construction (state funds) grant, how will your project comply with ADA requirements?
- How will project products be made accessible to the Public?

CIVIL RIGHTS COMPLIANCE GRID

The Kentucky Heritage Council observes the provision of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and all subsequent federal and state laws and regulations. The Heritage Council must ensure that its subgrantees do the same. If your county or area contains, for instance, a significant number of Hispanics or African Americans, then your group must find ways to involve these populations in the grant project. The grid below offers the subgrantee a way to demonstrate to the Kentucky Heritage Council that diverse populations have been considered in the planning of the grant project, in its execution, and in its products.

Please enter a number into each cell below, as applicable. The numbers for your county appear on the attached sheet.* The numbers entered will show how many people participate in the project according to their role (the horizontal rows) and according to their population status (the vertical columns). Use the grid to track the participation of diverse groups in your project.

In a county with a significant number of Hispanics and African Americans, members of those groups can participate in the project planning by being on the team that designs the project. In that same county, they can be involved in the project's execution by participating as volunteer researchers, as informant, as the project's staff members, and the project's advisory group, or as the consultant hired to complete the project. Also, if the project's products are intended for a target audiences, such as programs for children in schools with large minority populations, or in documents that focus on the lives of those residents, then indicate on the grid, the numbers of people served by those products.
